

Aging, Women and Poverty in California Forum

April 25, 2016

Dear Policy Leader,

On behalf of the California Women's Law Center, the California Commission on Aging and the California Commission on the Status of Women and Girls, we are writing to invite you to attend our upcoming Aging, Women and Poverty in California forum taking place on Friday, June 3, 2016. The event will be held at the Skirball Cultural Center in Los Angeles from 8:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Due to the generosity of our sponsors, there is no registration fee for this forum though pre-registration is required to guarantee your reservation. And, because we value your expertise, we ask that this invitation not be transferred to others.

Together, the organizations sponsoring this forum will hold three panels which will look at the needs of women and girls in California, with an emphasis on older women and families. We will outline the challenges California women and families face, discuss ways we can work together to address the economic realities facing women and begin to build a strategy of awareness and action that can be implemented at all levels of government and in every community.

We are thrilled that many accomplished professionals, policy makers and elected officials have confirmed their availability and will be joining our discussion. Please click on the "Get more information" link below to see the list of confirmed speakers who will be participating on one of three panels which will 1) give an overall view of aging in California, 2) draw the connection between poverty, inequity and abuse, and 3), address retirement and economic security matters.

This will be an interactive, thought-provoking day so please plan to join us. Your presence at our forum will bring an insight and commitment to the need to address the widening economic inequalities women face, particularly as they age in a world of changing demographics and disparities.

Sincerely,

Betsy Butler
